Further promoted ICC's Business Charter for Sustainable Development

The third edition of the Business Charter launched in 2015 aims to be a common and accessible starting point for companies of all sizes and regions to manage their economic, societal, and environmental considerations in their operations (risks and opportunities). The Charter has also been designed to assist companies to contribute to the Sustainable Development Goals' (SDGs) implementation in a practical way by linking the Charter's principles to the SDGs. ICC continued the promotion of the Charter in 2016 in France, Panama, and Switzerland. The Charter is available in English and Spanish, and soon in Portuguese.

ICC climate policy highlights

- Carbon Pricing Principles
ICC highlights eight basic principles and recommendations that should be taken into account by governments and policy makers if they decide on carbon pricing instruments.
- Business View on Market Mechanisms - Article 6 \(1\) – \(7\) of the Paris Agreement
With only few years left until the first period of nationally determined contributions (NDCs) are to be implemented, ICC has outlined six recommendations for the implementation of market mechanisms in order to maximize business involvement and attract investment.
- Role of carbon and long-term mitigation strategies beyond 2050 through CCU and C³
Not all greenhouse gas emissions can be avoided by a fuel switch. An alternative mitigation strategy is carbon capture and use (CCU) embedded in a circular economy.

Joint Informal Working Group on Trade and Climate Change

A cross-disciplinary working group was created to develop an issues paper on the interconnection of climate change and trade.

ICC at COP22 - a two-folded engagement (7-18 November)

COP 22 was once again characterized by strong business engagement both inside and around the meetings. As has been the case for several years, ICC had a strong presence towards and at the COP. ICC (co-)hosted seven well-received events and four press conferences in Marrakech to advocate ICC's policy priorities. This culminated in the official Business and Industry (BINGO) Day coordinated by ICC as global business focal point to the UNFCCC. Furthermore, as the global business and industry focal point to the UNFCCC process and COP22, ICC played a leading role throughout the two weeks conference in Marrakech coordinating business on the ground and demonstrating the vital role of business, including daily business briefings, meetings with governments, statement coordination, and placement of business speakers.

COP22 brought together in total around 50,000 participants, including 15,800 government officials, 1,200 journalists, and thousands of private sector delegates.

We thank our COP22 partners: Bosch, Standards & Poor, ICCA, 3M,

High-Level Dialogue: Sustainable Resource Management - Business Opportunities and Economic Potential (18 November)

The 120-strong gathering brought together scientists, industry-leaders and policy-makers to discuss the economic potential of resource efficiency, as well as its role in limiting global warming and putting the world on a more sustainable development path. The Dialogue was organized by the International Resource Panel, UN Environment and the International Chamber of Commerce, and was hosted by the French Ministry of the Environment, Energy and the Sea, and the French Ministry of Economy and Finance and the Académie Diplomatique Internationale. ICC is a Steering Committee member of the UN International Resource Panel.
